SALT LAKE IS STILL SAD.

The American party platform in Salt Lake contains this plank:
"The American party deprecates the defeat of the capital proposition at the election of last June and calls upon the state authorities to proceed with the construction of the capitol building to the full extent that available funds will allow."

Salt Lake cannot forget the defeat inflicted by the people of Utah who were stirred to action by the leadership of this paper, and they continue to deplore their failure to tax the people of all Utah so that Salt Lake real estate boomers might "point with pride" to a palace on "Capitol Hill."

Salt Lake's suggestion to the state

Folger's Golden Gate Coffee

Your grocer will grind it—better if ground at home—too fine.

of Utah reminds us of the tramp promoter who offered to form a partnership with a man of means, saying:

"Let's go into the ship business. The government is about to offer a subsidy, and I propose that you provide the money for the ship and I'll furnish the ocean."

Salt Lake had the capitol site. Utah was to supply the building.

Salt Lake had a match and said to Utah, "Have you a pipe and tobacco," and because Utah's answer was, "No, not for you, Salt Lake," why the American party now resolves to "deplore."

Tom Kearns, with his millions, should build a capitol for Utah, if he feels so distressed over the failure of the people of Utah to vote millions for a state building. By so doing he would relieve his people from the mental anguish which four months of bedridden memory cannot assuage.

PIETY IS DISCLOSED BY CENSUS FIGURES.

The Philadelphia Press has come to the conclusion that women are better than men and then proceeds to quote the last bulletin of the United States census, which discloses conditions as they existed two years ago.

Taking all the religious bodies together, and the proportion of membership is 56.9 per cent of females to 43.1 per cent of males. In the Protestant bodies alone the preponderance of females is still more marked, being 60.7 per cent to 39.3 per cent of males. Of these Protestant denominations the Church of Christ, Scientist, leads with a percentage of 72.4 females to 27.6 per cent of males. The membership of the Congregationalist church is 65.9 per cent female; that of the Free Will Baptists 62.7 per cent; Presbyterian, 62.1 per cent, and Methodist 61.5 per cent.

In the Roman Catholic church the percentage of membership is more nearly equal, being 49.3 per cent males and 50.7 per cent females. In the Eastern Orthodox churches, which were formerly included in the Greek Orthodox church, the men have the advantage, as they form 92.9 per cent membership. This is due probably to the fact that these churches in this country are mainly made up of immigrants whose wives and families are not here.

In the great church families women are shown to be in the majority, after a thorough canvass of special agents of the government. As these statistics are the only means the Census Bureau has of measuring piety, do the figures not prove women to be more religious than men?

LAND BOOM IS COMING TO THIS PART OF UTAH.

The day is not far distant when what is known as the Sand Ridge will be the garden spot of Utah, with orchards stretching from Davis county north.

On Thursday J. C. Jensen of the Healy cafe purchased 80 acres of this land, 20 acres of which is in fruit and he paid $12,500 to John E. Traugott for the property. When Mr. Traugott located on the 80 acres, land was the cheapest thing in that part of this state, and no one looked forward to the development of the fruit industry in that section. Today the Clearfield country and all that district north to Ogden is looked upon by competent judges as the most desirable orchard land in the West.

Mr. Jensen sold 11 acres of land on Twelfth street, Ogden, for $1100 an acre. He says that within a few years an equal or higher price will be offered for the land he has just purchased. He will immediately plant 20 acres more to apples and peaches and, with the building of the Weber river irrigation system, when ample water will be guaranteed, he will place the entire 80 acres in fruit. He predicts that the construction of reservoirs and canals, for the storing and distributing of the waters of Weber river, will make possible fruit culture over 20,000 acres of land now uncultivated because it is above the highest canal system.

Those who are thoroughly familiar with soil conditions along the line of the proposed high-line canal agree with Mr. Jensen that the placing of water on the land will bring about a land boom and draw to this valley 4,000 to 5,000 families.

TURKISH CONSTITUTION DOES NOT ADJUST CHRISTIANITY.

Current literature, discussing the new order of things in Turkey, wonders whether it will mean ultimately Christian gains in the empire's domain—and concludes that it will not.

The new Turkish constitution grants religious liberty. Heretofore, it was death to renounce the Mohammedan faith. But the Young Turk needed the Christian, in his rebellion, and was obliged to grant concessions to him. Hence, the Christian missionary is now free to enter the empire.

"The phenomenal political and social changes within the Mohammedan Orient, especially in Turkey and Persia," says the magazine writer, "have in many circles aroused the hope that now Christianity will reconquer the wide domain of Christian lands in east and northern Africa taken from it more than a thousand years ago by the followers of the prophet of Mecca, and that Islam, as a religion and as a distinct and separate type of culture and civilization, will rapidly disintegrate before the forces of western Christian ideas."

"An impression prevails that in Islam politics and religion are so intimately interwoven that the political disintegration of the people of this faith, which is transpiring before our eyes in the Mediterranean lands, will bring with it also a religious disruption. But the actual history of Islam during the nineteenth century does not warrant any such conclusion."

Islam, far from losing ground, is gaining. It makes proselytes in south and central Africa, in the teeth of the Christian powers. It controls northern Africa. More adapted to Oriental needs than Christianity as we now conceive it, should outstrip Christianity in Africa and retain its hold on Asia. The faith of Christ, so far as foreign advances are concerned, is making little progress.

AT THE HEAD OF THE HARRIMAN LINES.

The magazine writers are commenting on the rapid rise of Judge Lovett, from comparative obscurity to the most important and commanding position in the commercial world.

His career presents a brilliant example of what may be accomplished in this land of real opportunity by a man possessing the requisite ambition, mental ability, strength of character and love of work. He was born in 1869 in San Antonio, Texas. The son of a poor miller, he had none of the advantages of wealth. But he learned to work. He was not afraid of the tasks he had to perform, and when fourteen years old he applied for work to a contractor engaged in building a Texas railway. The first thing he was given to do was to dig out stumps from the right of way, and it is worthy of note that today he is president and one of the directors of the company which owns that road. His grit and faithfulness in his work attracted attention, and he was advanced to more and more responsible employment. By his own efforts he completed his education, and qualified himself for admission to the bar in 1882. From place to place he advanced until he became general counsel for the Texas & Pacific, and attracted the attention of Mr. Harriman, who saw that he could not afford to do without the services of such a man. He is a director or official of some other kind in a dozen or more railroad corporations, and he is commonly recognized as one of the most powerful figures in the railroad world.

"Every generation has its leaders and its boys who are great men in the making," says a writer. "All do not climb to the same height, for some achieve more, others less. Opportunities vary; but so do the other factors of success, and the greatest of these is the determination to succeed. The line of distinction is clearly drawn in early youth, for the boy is indeed father to the man; and from the boy of fourteen who began his career by digging stumps from the right of way of a Texas railway, there is a direct line of connection with the chairman of the executive committee of the Union Pacific and its subordinate and tributary lines. It was not upon the star of the poor miller's son, but upon himself that his destiny depended; and it would have required no prophet to discern from the way he worked when a boy that success had marked him for her own."

FALSE REPORTS SENT OUT FROM UTAH.

There is no end to the misrepresentation spread broadcast by two of the special correspondents who were with the Taft party in Ogden. Here is a special dispatch appearing in several eastern papers:

Ogden, Utah, Sept. 26.—On this day of rest the President preached a sermon in a Mormon tabernacle, spoke at the Salt Lake Y. M. C. A., viewed a living flag composed of 1,500 children, and took a ride through Ogden canyon. All this before 4 p. m. He is speeding tonight to Butte, where there is a strike of mine workers and where there has been violence, but the senators and other dignitaries accompanying him say that there is no reason to fear for the President.
At Ogden the President rebelled against the rule of Senator Smoot, who had been changing the prearranged program, interpolating extra features ever since Mr. Taft entered Utah. Senator Smoot announced when the party left the train that the President, in addition to a ride through the canyon and a speech at Lester park, would appear also at the tabernacle. He tried to make good, but when they left the stand at the park the President said no. He said that he was tired, and as he must speak at 8 p. m. at Poetsville, Idaho, he was going to the train and rest. And he did, getting in an hour's sleep while the train remained at the station.

There is not a word of truth in the statement that an attempt was made to have President Taft talk in the tabernacle. There had been no announcement, the tabernacle was not open to receive the President, and no one, other than the correspondent with the imagery of a dime novelist, had a thought of President Taft going to the tabernacle to speak.

"Journalism," as practiced by a few of these eastern correspondents and a paper or two in Salt Lake City, is a disgrace to the newspaper profession.

JEFFRIES WANTS TO FIGHT IN GALVESTON, TEXAS

San Francisco, Oct. 1.—Sam Berger, who has been looking after the interests of James J. Jeffries in the negotiations with Jack Johnson for a battle in this country, received today the following cablegram from the former champion, dated Paris:

"Leave for America October 16. Meet me in New York."
Berger will leave for New York with a week.
Berger said Jeffries is anxious to meet Johnson and his manager at New York to make arrangements at once for a meeting to sign articles. He wants a fight as soon as it can be arranged and, as to the place, he prefers Galveston, Texas. Dispatches to the effect that Jeffries would leave for home October 18 are in error as the date fixed in the cable is final.
